

The Clarity Project – Levels of Sourcing, November 2010

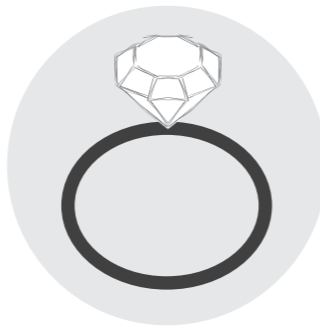

Level	Rough	Cut & Polish	Metal	Fabrication
1	Rough traceable to mine of origin (mine passed audit) Benefits local community Fair labor practices Good environmental practices	Stone traceable to cut and polishing factory (factory passed audit) Benefits local community Fair labor practices Good environmental practices	Metal traceable to mine of origin (mine passed audit) or to refinery (refinery passed audit) Benefits local community Fair labor practices Good environmental practices	Jewelry traceable to fabrication factory (factory passed audit) Benefits local community Fair labor practices Good environmental practices
2	Rough traceable to mine of origin (unaudited) Fair or improving labor practices Good or improving environmental practices	Stone traceable to cut and polishing factory (unaudited) Fair or improving labor practices Good or improving environmental practices	Metal traceable to mine of origin (unaudited) or to refinery (unaudited) Fair or improving labor practices Good or improving environmental practices	Jewelry traceable to fabrication factory (unaudited) Fair or improving labor practices Good or improving environmental practices
3	Rough traceable to country of origin	Stone traceable to country of cut and polishing factory	Metal traceable to country of mine or refinery	Jewelry traceable to country of fabrication
4	Diamond origin is unknown	Cut and polish factory unknown	Metal origin unknown	Fabricator unknown

NOTE: This chart identifies the characteristics associated with The Clarity Project - Levels for Sourcing, it does not attempt to define all aspects or details associated with each level. At The Clarity Project, we are passionate about the sources of all of our raw materials, if you would like more information or want to discuss any or all of the outlined levels in more detail please contact info@the-clarity-project.com, and one of our knowledgeable team members will get back to you.

we source
fair diamonds

create
elegant jewelry

and invest
all net profits
back into mining
communities

